The Vice-President Liberation and Equality represents Student Members from underrepresented backgrounds (including but not limited to women, disabled students, BAME students, LGBTQIA+ students, international students and socioeconomically disadvantaged students) to the University and external audiences. They lead in policy making, campaigning and lobbying work in conjunction with other Officers, on inequality issues at the University of Oxford. They take responsibility for driving forward action on inequality in University of Oxford at a student level; and promote the importance and value of work on inequality across the whole work of Oxford SU. They also support student parents and liaise with the University on behalf of students. They are an Officer Trustee and play a key role in relationship between Student Council and the Trustee Board.

AREAS OF RESPONSIBILITY

- To be Sabbatical Trustee and play a key role in the relationship between Student Council and the Trustee Board.
- Support the committees of Oxford SU Campaigns
- To organise, collect feedback on and review consent workshops.
- To work with the collegiate University and the student body on tackling sexual violence on campus.
- To represent students, in particular women students, to the University, and external audiences as appropriate. (Oxford SU's definition of 'women' strives to be trans-inclusive. The term covers anyone who identifies wholly or partially as a woman, or as transfeminine.)
- To campaign, lobby, and make policy on gender inequality issues at Oxford.
- To take responsibility for driving forward action on gender inequality in the University of Oxford at a student level.
- To promote the importance and value of work on gender inequality in all aspects of Oxford SU.
- To run and deliver projects arising from manifesto pledges and team priorities.
